MISSOURI QUAIL ACADEMY

University of Central Missouri, Warrensburg, Mo., June 7–12, 2009

TEACHER APPLICATION

Missouri Quail Academy is a conservation training program for high-school students just completing their freshman or sophomore year. Twenty-five students are selected for each academy and will undergo extensive training in quail biology, ecology and the human dimensions of wildlife conservation. Instruction also will be provided in leadership, public speaking and critical thinking.

TEACHER OPPORTUNITIES: Missouri teachers are selected to serve as covey leaders to chaperon a covey of five students through the course. These teachers will learn about upland wildlife management and techniques for bringing conservation into their own classroom while earning up to two hours of graduate credit, free! Food, lodging and interim transportation will be provided.

Responsibilities include supervision and coordination of your covey during all scheduled activities and assisting them with their study and projects. Covey leaders will share “after-hours” chaperon duties on a rotating basis.

To earn college credit, covey leaders must develop a course lesson plan based on information from the academy that can be used in the courses they normally teach.

COST: There are no charges or fees. Teachers must arrange transportation to the academy for registration and from the academy upon completion.

TO APPLY: Complete a one-page essay telling us about yourself, your interests and why you want to become a covey leader. Submit this, along with the form below, to Mo. Quail Academy, Quail Unlimited, PO Box 950, Harrisonville, MO 64701, (Fax: (816) 987-3312). Deadline for application is April 15, 2009.
